BOSTON COLLEGE POST-GRADUATION PLANS SURVEY CLASS OF 2012

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The purpose of the Boston College Post-Graduation Plans Survey is to track recent graduates' future plans via topics such as their primary activity six months post-graduation, top career fields, the timing of offers and starting salary information, graduate school enrollment by program, degree, and institution, and the organizations where recent graduates choose to volunteer, among other areas. The information collected from graduating seniors provides valuable data for faculty, administrators, and employers to better serve students in their career-planning activities.

Survey administration

Administered March 2012 through October 2012 to all members of the undergraduate Class of 2012

PRIMARY RESOURCES USED TO OBTAIN CURRENT POSITION

Thirty-eight percent of the respondents who are working full-time indicated that they found their position through on-campus interviewing or other Career Center programs. This represents a decline from the Class of 2011 (47.8%) but is comparable to earlier years: from 2008 to 2010 between 35-40% found their positions in that manner. The percent who noted networking or internships as their primary resource increased to about 35%, up from 28% for the Class of 2011 but comparable to the previous three classes. Note that the BC Career Center provides many networking and internship opportunities.

CONCLUSION

The percent of Boston College graduates who planned to work full time has been gradually increasing over the past three years, from 55.9% in 2010 to 61.0% in 2012. The percent planning to enroll in graduate school peaked at 28.1% in 2010 and has held steady around 23% for the past two years. It will be interesting to monitor the results for future classes to assess whether these trends continue.
